Body Language, Landscape Stories

Fri Mar 10 • Public Reception and Anniversary Celebration, 4:30 - 5:30pm
This show of prints by Rebekah Lord Gardiner, Debra Olin and Liz Shepherd explores and connects the three artists’ imagery. Lord Gardiner evokes a narrative with family photos and generational ties strengthened through landscape and gardens. Olin’s work uses the body as a conduit between the heavens and the earth, while exploring folklore, cultural beliefs, and healing. Shepherd’s print series of figures in the landscape investigates the immigrant experience through dislocation and memory.
